DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mullins et al (US 4,838,475).

Re claim 1, Mullins et al disclose

Providing a printed circuit board (18) with solder (solder paste on pad 21)

Providing a shielding can (10) with an extra amount of solder (24)(col. 2, line 63)

Placing the shield can (10) on the board (Fig 3)

Heating (22) the PCB and the shield can

Cooling the PCB and the shield can (inherent)

Re claim 13, the extra amount of solder extends around substantially the entire perimeter of the rim of the shield can (Fig 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mullins et al.

The teaching of Mullins et al as discussed above does not disclose the extra amount of solder being provided by a bath of molten solder or a screen printing process. It is well known in the electrical art to use a bath of molten solder or a screen printing process. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the invention of Mullins et al by employing the bath of molten solder or a screen printing process for intended purpose.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 08-16-07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues (1) that Mullins fails to teach providing the rim of the shield can with extra amount of solder before the shield can is placed on the PCB.

With respect to (1) Mullins teaches the use of providing the rim of the shield can with extra amount of solder 24 before the shield can is placed on the PCB 18 (col. 2, lines 63-68).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 2831

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
